

Representational decoupling does not predict behavioural change

